National Young Physicists' Tournament

Nepal Astronomical Society (NASO) opens a call for registration in February for interested high school students in Nepal.

During the first round, students will be selected on the basis of their skills needed for reporting, opposing and reviewing. The selected students then will be trained during the closed camp. At the end of the closed camp, students will fight in the International Young Physicists Tournament (IYPT) format. At the end of the selection, a merit list will be published with respect to the Jury's result.

NASO will prepare a national delegation of two team leaders and five students from the final merit list.
